Good News!

February 9, 2014
FIFTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME
 Is 58:7-10 / 1 Cor 2:1-5 / Mt 5:13-16

When my daughter got her first job after college, I handed her a copy of Isaiah 57 so she would always remember she was blessed to have work and that she had a responsibility to care for those who were not as fortunate as she. Without a word, she took the piece of paper, folded it, and put it in her wallet.

A few years later, she hasn't forgotten. When she was looking for a position as a lawyer, she sought a firm that would take clients regardless of their ability to pay and that counted hours of volunteer legal (pro bono) counsel in calculating her work hours. I was so proud. It reminded me that honoring our solidarity with the poor is a lifelong discipline.

We've been taught that calling attention to ourselves is a little suspect. Our parents and good friends can call attention to our achievements, but we can't. And yet, today's readings include the part of Jesus' Sermon on the Mount that calls us the salt of the earth and the light of the world.

This isn't the kind of thing we're supposed to hide. But Jesus doesn't mean we should brag or be prideful. Rather, we're to do what Isaiah tells us and honor God by caring for the least among us. We're to follow Paul's example and strive only to "know nothing while I was with you except Jesus Christ, and him crucified."

The example of our lives should be such that those who see us will know God is working through his people. Our love and service to others is not for our glory, but for God's.

How do you let God's glory shine through?
