

Go first and be reconciled with your brother

I shall take away their hearts of stone and give them hearts of flesh

(From St. Valentine's liturgy but useful for a Valentine)

Your Weakness Is A Gift

In the Bible, St. Paul boasted of his "Thorn in the Flesh".
It was his weakness.
But whatever it was, about this weakness, he said these immortal, mind-boggling words. "At first I didn't think of it as a gift, and begged God to remove it. Three times I did that, and then he told me, "My grace is enough; it's all you need. My strength comes into its own in your weakness." (2 Corinthians 12:7-10)

How can your weakness be gift?

Your Weakness Blesses You In 3 Great Ways

First, my weaknesses humble me. It makes me depend in God even more. And I see how He uses me mightily despite all my weaknesses! That is why the Bible says, God chooses what the world considers weak in order to shame the powerful. (1 Corinthians 1:27)

Second, my weaknesses make me more merciful towards others. I believe that someone who easily judges others hasn't yet accepted his own weaknesses. If he had, he wouldn't be judgmental. But because he hasn't, he projects his self-anger towards other people.

Third, my weaknesses bond me with others in a way that nothing else can. When I share the story of my past and my addiction to someone else, I disrobe my defences and become vulnerable to him. In this way, I also give permission to that person to disrobe his defences as well.

Friend, thank God for your weaknesses, your struggles, and your problems.

They are great gifts that will bless you and others.

Fr. Dennis Remot
