Pastoral Reflection: The Baptism of Our Lord/Matthew 3,13-17 Self-Emptying

Parties and performances are the usual ways individuals are introduced into public view. Once in the public's eye, people are expected to perform certain rituals with ease, whether it's small talk or demonstrating a sports talent or a musical ability.

How is one introduced to a public ministry? What ritual would prepare the person for the public eye? What activities would prepare the public for a new minister? In the case of Jesus, the ritual was John's baptism.

In the discussion of Christ's baptism, the Catechism constantly refers to his "self-emptying" and God's power. As the instrument of God's will, Jesus emptied himself so God's power could be made present. By humbling himself to be baptized by John, Jesus showed his deference to the Father's will. God's will would lead to the death of Jesus, and reveal God's power in his resurrection.

To truly be God's instruments, we must be willing to empty ourselves. "Me, first" must become "We, together." "Right now" must become "Your will be done," "I want" must become "what is best for all." Emptying ourselves does not mean losing our identity, our purpose, or our passion. It means seeing the bigger picture and putting others needs on par with our own. When we act as if "we love others as ourselves," we open ourselves to God, align ourselves with his will, and become his instruments. Baptism calls us and empowers us to empty ourselves. Like Christ, our humility can openly declare our trust in God the Father. We are followers of Christ because we act like Christ. Public baptism does not make us spiritually better than any one else. But it does empower us. God is now one with us (the heavens torn apart). The Spirit calls and equips us to witness to others (the descent of the Spirit). And the Father now declares we are his beloved children. Baptism enables us to truly be followers of Christ.

Baptism of the Lord :

Today's feast is a powerful reminder of the vocation to which we are called. It recalls our own baptism in consecrated waters which cleansed our souls from the state of sin and was the beginning of our relationship with God. The seeds of the Christian life are sown in baptism which means we belong to God's family, are able to call od, 'Father' and Jesus Christ 'our brother'. Like Christ we have been chosen for a mission in the world of our time. The carrying out of that mission will only be possible if we are prepared to live in accordance with God's will.
