The Holy One of God

In our age of instantaneous, multimedia communication, the power of speech and deed can be lost. Politicians reduce opportunities for a inspirational speeches to sound bites staged for news outlets. Stage and movie stars focus more on persona than the awe their performances can bring. And, with so many people getting into the act, everyone wants to impress more than be impressed. Image is everything. Words and deed are done for effect.

Once in awhile, the power of word and deed cuts through the clutter. Even the politicians, the stars, and the wanna-be's stop to take note. In a small synagogue in a small town in a forgotten corner of the ancient world, the power of word and deed rang out to get the attention of the generations to come.

"You are the holy One of God!" Even demons recognized who Jesus was. In the person of Jesus, Son of Mary, God visited his people. Through the words and deeds of Jesus, God 's presence became tangible. "Wherever God acts, God is." God was present to the audience in the synagogue through Jesus, simply because the Son of God possessed a divine nature.

When we experience Jesus, his words and deeds change us. If he could heal one possessed, can't he heal us of our demons, sins, and failures? All we need to do is trust. Once we have seen and heard, once we have been healed, we are sent to proclaim the Good News to others.

(See 1 John 1:1-4)

Jesus came to proclaim the Good News. Sometimes he used words. And, sometimes he healed. But all his words and deed reflected a greater power: God's love. He was the instrument, the conduit of that love, for he is God. The holy One made God present in tangible ways. He still does.
