On January 28, 1988 the Supreme Court struck down the laws regulating abortions. Thus a woman can get an abortion any time during her pregnancy. Even now an unborn baby has no protection as a person under the law. How long could it be before the terminally ill, the severely disabled, or elderly people will be denied basic rights?

We invite you to take and wear a green ribbon to show that you care. We urge you to pray for an increase in the respect of the life of each person from conception to natural death and to do all that you can for this cause.
