Thirteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time: July 1st

Today's reading from St. Paul explains the "divine economy" of stewardship - "The relief of others ought not to impoverish you; there should be a certain equality. Your plenty at the present time should supply their need so that their surplus may in turn one day supply your need."

See 2 Corinthians 8:13-14

Fourteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time: July 8th

During this time, we celebrate the independence of our country. We would do well to echo the psalmist, saying, "Our eyes are fixed on the Lord, pleading for His mercy." May we always recognize and use wisely the gifts of freedom and abundance He has showered upon us.

See Psalm 123

  Camp Lemieux is looking for someone to hire as maintenance person this summer. If you are a handy person with some general maintenance skills and can clean up, mow and take care of general maintenance then we have the summer job for you! You will work under the supervision of the Camp Director and be part of a team of people working toward providing faith development and great camping experiences for youth. The position will be for a minimum of 8 weeks from mid-June through July and part of August. If this interests you please contact us by calling the office at (306)773-0026.

Our parish has agreed to handle the BBQ / Weiner Roast event at the Assiniboia Centennial Homecoming Friday, August 3, 2012, from 5:00 – 9:00 PM at the Prince of Wales – Tent. We need lots of people to help. It is a good opportunity for our parish to be visible in the community and to wear spiffy new aprons specially made for the occasion. Please sign up at the back of the church or e-mail stgeorge@sasktel.net

St Louis Parish Council invites all parishioners to enjoy muffins and coffee following Lay service on July 8th at 9 am. We will view the Archbishop's DVD message on Pentecost. Hope you can join us!

Good News!

THIRTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Wis 1:13–15; 2:23–24 / 2 Cor 8:7, 9, 13–15

Mk 5:21–43 or 5:21–24, 35b–43

It's said that a woman often marries someone like her father. It appears I married someone who resembles my mother. They're both warm and generous—and seriously directionally challenged. If not for online maps and GPS technology, neither would get to their destinations. My assessment is that both are beyond hope and help when it comes to improving their navigational skills.

Two of the people in today's Gospel are also beyond hope and beyond help, but in much more dramatic ways. The woman who touches Jesus' cloak has hemorrhaged for twelve years. She's not only physically ill, she's also considered ritually unclean and a societal outcast. Jairus's daughter deteriorates from serious illness to death, and the crowds vocally discourage Jairus from bothering Jesus anymore. Both individuals appear to be too far gone to be helped.

Yet that's exactly where Jesus' healing touch is found—where hope is lost and help is exhausted. The woman reaches out and finds healing; Jesus brings new life to Jairus's daughter.

Certainly we know the experience of feeling beyond help. Whether it's a physical illness, battles with depression, patterns of sinful behavior we struggle to shake, or feelings of being unloved—at times many of us feel that human intervention can't reach us.

But Jesus isn't afraid of those dark places, and that's exactly where he reaches out to touch us with his gentle healing. Jesus may be unable to fix the navigational challenges of my family members, but in our true places of pain, he couldn't be closer.
