DEVELOPMENT AND PEACE Message for week of July 22

July 26: World Youth Day

At Development and Peace - Caritas Canada, we have a very active youth movement that raises awareness and mobilizes young adults from across the country for international solidarity. They also elect national representatives who bring new energy and ideas to our movement and allow us to cultivate the next generation of members across the country. On World Youth Day, we want to thank all those involved in our youth movement for their time and dedication, and for helping us to build a better world well into the future!

Message for the week of August 5, 2018

August 9: International Day of the World's Indigenous Peoples

Advocacy for Indigenous peoples is a very important part of Development and Peace - Caritas Canada's mission. Today, let us highlight the struggles of Indigenous communities here in Canada and around the world to have their cultural, territorial and environmental rights respected and for recognition of past crimes against their peoples.

Leftovers

What do you do with leftovers? Leftovers are a sign of abundance. For the hosts, it is better to have left overs than to be short of food and drink. It would be a very embarrassing situation if food runs out at a feast. As a priest who gets invited to many fiestas I often see how the hosts try to prepare as much food as they can afford. Some even go as far as being in debt just to satisfy the guests. People are generous.

Action starter: With what are you generous? To whom?

The readings this Sunday talks of the great generosity of God. The first reading from the book of Kings describe how Elisha fed a hundred people out of twenty barley loaves (2Kgs 4:43). There were some left over. The responsorial psalm says, "The hand of the Lord feeds us; He answers all our needs." The Gospel tells the miracle of multiplication of bread and fish. Jesus fed more than five thousand people out of five barley loaves and a couple of dried fish (John 6:11). There were twelve baskets full of leftovers. God is generous and Jesus is the sign of the generosity of God. When God gives He gives the best and he gives more than enough.

Shouldn't we imitate the generosity of God? If God is generous and if we are made in the image and the likeness of God, then we are supposed to be generous too. To be generous is to share the gifts that we have received. These could be our talents, our treasure, our time. This entails even going against our natural tendency to think only of our selves. As St. Paul challenged the Ephesians, "I plead with you as a prisoner for the Lord, to live a life worthy of the calling you have received, with perfect humility, meekness, and patience, bearing with one another lovingly (Eph. 4:1)." St. Paul advised that a disciple must be generous with his patience and forbearance. This is especially true when one lives in community.
