

The woman saw that the tree was good for food.

The gospel paints a picture of our Blessed Lord offering us healing, strength, forgiveness and a way out of our difficulties. The entire life and mission of Jesus was a renewal of the dialogue between God and his people. So, let us not be afraid to turn to him for help in our lives. If we confess our sins with sorrow, we will know with faith that we are forgiven, and travel on life's journey with our minds and hearts set on heaven.

June 15: World Day against Hunger

With your support and commitment, we are fighting the injustice that is the scandal of global hunger. Inspired by Caritas Internationalis' campaign, One Human Family, Food for All, launched by Pope Francis in 2013, Development and Peace - Caritas Canada launched the Sow Much Love campaign to raise awareness amongst Canadians on the role of small-scale family farmers as stewards of creation. The campaign called on the general public to support the rights of farmers to preserve seeds in the face of growing corporate control over agriculture and biodiversity.

Pastoral Reflection: 10th Sunday OT-B
(Gospel Reading-Mark 3,20-35)

The Odd Person

A typical social behavior is always a source of controversy. People who act in ways unexpected are not readily accepted. The misfit, the mentally disturbed, the odd character always meet with passive (they are ignored) or active (they are opposed) resistance. Society likes conformity. Those who act outside social norms and expectations will be rejected.

Jesus from Nazareth faced opposition when he stepped outside of realm of social expectation. His peers saw him as a carpenter in a family of carpenters. Yet, the village handyman became a preacher and healer with a mobile ministry. As the reputation of Jesus spread, so did the scandal he caused. How did the lowly jack-of-all-trade gain the power to teach in God's name and exorcize the possessed? Was the answer itself demonic or heaven sent?

How does the will of God challenge your social expectations? How does the "odd person" present the face of God to you? Jesus was unusual, even to the point of causing scandal and shame to his family. But Jesus, his message, and his mission pointed to something greater than social norms and people's expectations. They revealed the Kingdom.

Our problem, of course, lies in our expectations. What do we expect others to do? What do we expect God to do? How do we react when God or others don't meet our expectations? More important, how do we react when God or others CHALLENGE our expectations?

Reflect on the times others challenged your expectations. Did you consider these people odd or misfits? How did you react? If you could change your reactions, what would you do differently? How would God want you to react to them?
