Fourth Sunday of Lent: March 30th

The blind man was willing to let Jesus minister to him and willingly did all Jesus asked of him. The Pharisees were more resistant to His message, spending their time and energy to disprove the miracle. Which am I more like, the man born blind or the Pharisees.

Let us hold in prayer the family and friends of the dearly departed, especially ALBINA MURCHISON. May she rest in peace and her family be comforted by Christ’s tenderness .

THANK YOU to all those who supported our fund raiser St.

Patrick's Day Tea by your attendance and your donations of every kind. Thanks especially to Mom's Florist for the beautiful table centers which, after the brunch on Sunday, were delivered to our members who are unable to attend our functions. This has become a tradition. Thanks to Ken for his help in setting everything up. A very special thanks to our members who work long and hard to make this a successful event so we can continue to support our parish, our community and those communities in the world who so desperately need help. Thank you also to the young ladies who so ably helped in the dining room. We really appreciated it. God bless you all.

Good News!

March 30, 2014 • FOURTH SUNDAY OF LENT (A)

1 Sm 16:1b, 6-7, 10-13a / Eph 5:8-14

Jn 9:1-41 or 9:1, 6-9, 13-17, 34-38

“Do you see what I’m saying?”

The question came at the end of a difficult conversation about a hurtful remark I’d made. I hadn’t intended it to hurt—I was going for a cheap laugh in a group of people, and I got it. But, as my colleague made clear to me, the laugh came at the expense of her comfort and, to some extent, her dignity.

The very fact that she had to call it to my attention meant that I had not been paying attention. I didn’t “see” her—I saw only myself scoring laugh points with the seven or eight people we were with. Let’s face it: I was blind to her and to the effect of my words.

In today’s Scriptures, Samuel is chastised for his narrow vision because he believes a king must surely look like Eliab, someone of stature and importance. He saw only what impressed him. He couldn’t look into the heart as God did, so he didn’t see as God did.

The Pharisees, too, are called to account for their own constricted sight, which couldn’t accept that a man born blind might know the presence of God more surely than they ever could.

When we’re convinced of our own righteousness and consider ourselves more important than anyone else, we become blind to others and to God. Today our prayers ask God for holy sight—the grace to see the world and all in it as God sees.

Many things can make us blind, but God can open the eyes of our heart if we simply come to him and ask him to help us see.
