TWENTY-NINTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME (C)

Ex 17:8-13 / 2 Tm 3:14-4:2 / Lk 18:1-8

My mother claims her children inherited something from our father she calls “Esker-stick-to-itiveness.” I thought she’d made the whole word up, but stick-to-itiveness is actually in the dictionary. It means the ability to “stick” to something, see it through to completion. My father was much better than my mother at staying focused on a project through all its challenges, and my mother says it’s part of my DNA.

Today’s readings speak directly to the concept of stick-to-itiveness. Moses must keep his hands raised to help the Israelites in battle; his friends Aaron and Hur stick by him in supporting his tired arms. St. Paul encourages Timothy to “be persistent” in teaching and proclaiming the Gospel “whether it’s convenient or inconvenient.” And the persistent widow in the Gospel who strikes fear in the heart of the unjust judge is upheld by Jesus as a model of faith and unceasing prayer.

Stick-to-itiveness appears not only to be a helpful quality in project completion, but also in discipleship. In the face of personal challenges, a consumerist culture, and simple human weakness, it can be tempting to give up on praying, give up on sharing the Good News, give up on supporting others in their struggles. Today’s readings should give us the boost we need to persist: Jesus clearly states that God will answer and provide for his beloved ones in his good time—not in our time, but God’s.

Confident in this promise and in the stick-to-itiveness in our discipleship DNA, we too can persist in faith, prayer, and the sharing of God’s Good News.

Twenty-Ninth Sunday in Ordinary Time: October 20th

Today's theme is perseverance – Moses keeping his hands upraised throughout the battle, Paul urging Timothy to stay with the task of preaching and teaching, and the widow appealing to the corrupt judge. To be faithful stewards of God's gifts, we, too, must persevere in the roles to which we are called.

As you know, Scott Heatcoat was our hard-working and beloved youth minister last year.

This letter is to you all, from him:

Dear St. George's Community,

I greet you with an open heart and mind set in what God's great plan is for all our lives.

Right now, as you may know, I have taken a leap of faith in my life, by joining St. Joseph's seminary in Edmonton. Here, I hope to further discern my calling. Before making this decision, my heart and soul had been struggling for quite some time, over what was to be my next step.

Even though I wish I could have continued my work with St. George's in Assiniboia, I know it was best for me to listen, and obey God's voice within me.

I would like to ask you, my spiritual family at St. George's, to pray for me during my time here at St. Joseph's seminary. Pray that I will discover what God is calling me to be and to do.

I want you to know that I am continually praying for all of you and the parish.

Peace in Christ, Scott Heatcoat
