LABOR DAY :

*Let the brightness of the Lord our God be upon us, and direct thou the works of our hands
 over us, the work of our hands
 do thou direct.*

BACK TO SCHOOL :

Twenty-Third Sunday in Ordinary Time: September 4th

Jesus tells the crowd that only those who renounce all of their possessions can be His disciples. Is He truly asking us to give up everything? Perhaps instead He is trying to help us see that everything we think we own is really a gift from God. Good stewards know that and strive to use those gifts accountably.

Fr. Dennis's Corner :
The First Lie I Ever Told

I remember the first lies I ever said.

I was in Grade 3.

One day, I opened the classroom door, not knowing my classmate was right behind it. The door hit his forehead, and blood flowed down his face, all the way to his white polo uniform. He looked like a victim in a horror movie.

That was when my teacher arrived on the scene. And she screamed, "Who did this?"

There I was, still holding the door knob, and with a shaking voice, said, "Not me!"

I remember how terrible I felt that day.

If you ever told a lie before, you know the feeling.

Suddenly, you don't feel at peace. (Obviously, I'm disqualifying chronic liars. They've deadened their conscience and feel nothing.)

Let me tell you why we lose our peace.

Because God is truth. And when we speak untruth, we move away from God. You move away from the one who said, "Peace be with you."

Lying isn't worth it.
Inner peace leaves you.

And your relationships are affected. Because relationships are based on trust—which is based on truth. More so, you can't even have a great relationship with yourself because you lose respect for yourself.
